The Corrales Arts Partners (CAP) brings together individuals, businesses and organizations conducting and promoting art, cultural and educational activities in Corrales. Simply stated, CAP's mission is to promote art, education and cultural events in Corrales. To accomplish this, CAP provides a forum for Partners to meet, get acquainted, discuss planned activities and issues of common interest, and explore ways to collaborate and provide mutual support. CAP seeks to support and expand the robust art, educational and cultural opportunities provided to artists, educators, and members of the business and general Village community, young and old.

Regular meetings are scheduled on a bi-monthly basis with special meetings scheduled as needed.

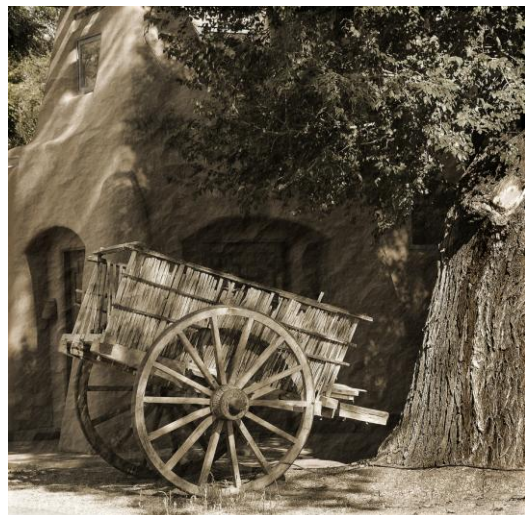

CAP has participation from over 50 representatives from 28 Corrales organizations and businesses. Individuals are invited to participate without an organization or business affiliation.

For more information, contact Ken Duckert, CAP Chairperson, (505) 369-1012, kenduckert91@gmail.com. Website: <https://corralesartscenter.org/page-18256>.

Casa Perea Art Space

Years Doing Business: 1 year for Casa Perea Art Space; 45 years for Pachamama

Membership: Martha Egan, owner; Bernadette R Caraveo, Site Manager/Site Maintenance

Contact: Casa Perea Art Space
(505) 503-7636
casapereaartspace@gmail.com

Mailing Address: PO Box 3774
Corrales, NM 87048

Website: www.casapereaartspace.com

Purpose: Casa Perea is a multipurpose facility, a 5,400 sq ft. traditional adobe and terrone structure that dates to circa 1850, and is listed on the New Mexico historical registry as a prime example of Territorial style architecture. Over the Casa's nearly 170 years, it has served as a family residence, a dance hall, the Sandoval County Courthouse, a church, a restaurant, a wine-making cellar, a reception hall for the San Ysidro Church, and an event center for weddings, art exhibits, and concerts.

Pachamama Two rooms are dedicated to Pachamama, the owner's retail store specializing since 1974 in Latin American folk art and Spanish Colonial antiques. We offer traditional jewelry, antique and contemporary folk art, market toys, textiles, books, notecards, and miniatures. Our hundreds of hand-finished silver milagros are a specialty. We are open Wednesday through Saturday 10am to 5 pm or by appointment.

The additional seven rooms throughout the building are furnished with authentic antiques from Peru, Mexico, Bolivia, Guatemala, and New Mexico. Two rooms with a separate entrance, bathroom, fireplace, patio, and parking are available as short-term rentals.

Casa Perea is a handsome, traditional multi-purpose facility intended to serve the Corrales community and visitors. The interior and exterior space can be rented for arts-related activities, concerts, receptions, classes, seminars, meetings, and celebrations of all kinds, including weddings. The 62 x 15 ft. wooden dance floor connects outside to a 100 ft long pergola hung with wisteria, trumpet vine and climbing roses. The garden's lawns are surrounded by roses, lilacs, fruit trees, aromatic herbs, and flowers, with a small vineyard at the entrance to the property. The building and grounds are handicapped accessible.

Website: www.villageinthevillage.org

Purpose: To help seniors remain in their homes for as long as they wish to. We also attempt to enhance the quality of their lives through social, recreational, educational, and culturally enriching events.

Events: The most important events are the services we provide our members such as handy work, errands, rides to medical appointments, and more. We also co-sponsor Osher classes (UNM Continuing education for adults over 50), and have monthly luncheons, weekly coffees, walks, fund raising events (such as an auction) and participation in other community events.

Comment: Increasing seniors' access and exposure to the arts is an important strategy for enhancing the quality of their lives in addition to making Corrales a better place to live for everyone.
